

The big action as seen from the sand dunes – and from the 'Journey Cam' of the Lynk & Co.

1 lift, 3 drones, 1 seagull and 28 cars on the beach. With the help of a lot of people we Monday got the traditional beach picture – in nice weather but just before the rain came in.

Not only was the big picture with alle the candidates secured, we also managed to shoot a picture of the 13 pure electric cars. Both official photos are soon available at Tannistest.com

Electric, highly electric

When we did the Tannistest 2019, 5 of the candidates were BEVs. Now, two years later, there are 13 pure electric candidates (including Opel Mokka, which is an allrounder) out of 28. Though it might not be totally representative for actual status, this is a very strong indication of what is happening in the auto industry.
